New Airlift By Army To Japan Begins

Command Ship Lands At Hawaii; 43 Planes To Transport Troops

HICKAM FIELD, Hawaii, July 8 (AP)—The command ship of the Army's gigantic new airlift to Japan flew in from San Francisco early today.

Aboard the double-decker four-engine C124 of the 18th Air Force were Col. Norman E. Tipton of Rock Hill, S. C., commander of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team of Ft. Campbell, Ky., 18 newsmen and 60 of some 4,000 paratroopers en route to Far East duty.

Ship Is Greeted

The Hawaii Visitors Bureau and Honolulu Chamber of Commerce greeted the command ship with hula dancers. As the troops and newsmen marched off the plane, each was presented an orchid lei by a grass-skirted Hawaiian.

The plane landed just as day was breaking.

Tipton's plane was the fifth in a parade of 2½-million-dollar Douglas C124 transports, each carrying about 90 troops in addition to the crew of nine, which is undertaking an 18,000-mile transpacific airlift, the most ambitious of its kind ever attempted by the Army and the Air Force.

It will require a stream of 43 C124 Globemasters, spaced two hours apart, to move the 508th from Ft. Campbell to Asahi air base in Japan in the time allowed. Ten more C124s are being used as spares, to avoid serving delays on the way. Three additional Globemasters hauled advance parties to posts along the route.

Will Return Troops

The same transports which are flying the 508th to Japan will return 3,100 paratroopers of the 18th Airborne Regimental Combat Team from five years of duty in the Far East to Ft. Bragg, N. C. The exercise is a part of the Army's continuing program, Operation Gyroscope, whereby entire units trade overseas and U. S. assignments.

Tipton's command plane roared off from Ft. Campbell's airfield yesterday at 8 a. m., four hours after the first plane departed. It made a 10-hour flight to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco where it picked up a new plane crew. The initial crew of the plane will rest 14 hours at Travis, then pick up the seventh C124 after the one it originally flew and continue to Hawaii. Here and at Wake Island the crew changes and rests periods will be repeated.

Steady Rains Cause Overflow Of Rivers

REGENSBURG, Germany, July 8 (AP)—Steady rains for 72 hours have turned three Bavarian rivers and scores of streams into raging torrents, threatening a repetition of the disastrous 1954 floods.

At Munich, the Isar River overflowed tonight, flooding low-lying areas. The Weather Bureau warned the rise would continue during the night.

The Danube also was on the rise. In Austria, the rivers Enns and Traun rose nine feet during the afternoon, threatening Steyr and Wels with damaging floods. Some houses along the banks were inundated.

Man Pawns Money In Shop 'For Sentimental Reasons'

CHICAGO, July 8 (AP)—Why would a man pawn money in a pawn shop? Joseph K. Johnson, 43, a butcher, who has been doing that, essayed an explanation to day.

Johnson was in the South State St. court. He was picked up Wednesday by Sgt. John Doyle. Doyle had been looking around for him for more than a year to learn why he pawned sums of cash.

Doyle, in the hope it would set up another chance to solve the puzzle, placed a technical charge

Dulles Remarks On Soviet Explained

No Immediate Crisis There Is Seen

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The White House said today that when Secretary of State Dulles said the Russian economic system is "on the point of collapsing" he did not mean Russia faces any "immediate crisis."

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said "there is no difference" between Dulles and President Eisenhower. The President said Wednesday that nobody in his government has stated the Soviets will enter the Geneva Big Four conference in a state of weakness.

House Slices Ike's Foreign Aid Requests

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—With a blast at what it called "questionable administrative practices," the House Appropriations Committee today knocked $627,900,000 out of the new foreign aid fund requested by President Eisenhower. The committee also spoke of a "chaotic fiscal situation" in the military aid part of the program. It recommended approval of $2,638,741,750 in new aid money for the current fiscal year, which started July 1. Eisenhower's request was for $3,266,641,750.

Congress yesterday set a top limit of $3,285,800,000 on new foreign aid authorizations for the year. Eisenhower, who had asked for a figure of $3,408,000,000 signed the reduced authorization bill today.

Further cuts in actual appropriations are likely to be proposed when the money bill comes up for House debate Monday. The Appropriations Committee noted that the foreign aid program has an estimated $8,717,100,000 in unspent balances from previous allotments.

Largest cut recommended by the committee was $420,000,000 from the $1,125,000,000 requested for general military aid to non-Communist nations. Other big reductions were $100,000,000 from funds requested for Asian economic development and $52,900,000 from the $827,000,000 sought for defense support for Asia.

The committee said the cuts it proposed would not hurt the program in view of the large balances on hand.

With respect to these funds, it expressed concern about "questionable administrative practices" followed in obligating, deobligating and reobligating funds.

It said it had "reason to believe" that funds frequently are obligated late in a fiscal year in order to keep them available for the next year, "even though the obligations are not based on firm agreements or commitments."

Imputing a chaotic situation in military assistance, the committee report said witnesses estimated June 3 unobligated balances all the way from 100 million to 932 million. On the last day of the fiscal year—June 30—the committee said, the defense program set aside for use during the new year $614,000,000 of unobligated balances in addition to $337,000,000 obligated earlier in the month.

Plans Desegregation

AUSTIN, Tex., July 8 (AP)—The University of Texas today ordered a gradual elimination of the color line in its vast system with complete desegregation planned by the year of 1956.

The Board of Regents ruled that all qualified students, regardless of racial origin, would be admitted to all levels of instruction at Texas Western College, El Paso, Tex., this fall.

Seven Farm Workers Killed By Lightning

MEXICO CITY, July 8 (AP)—Seven farm workers taking refuge under a tree were killed by lightning, raising to 17 today the death toll in Mexico's continuing rain and wind storms.

The storms began in southern Mexico Sunday, cutting rail, road and communications lines in some regions. A new disturbance developed yesterday on the Pacific Coast. As it moved northward it was preceded by a violent electrical storm. The farm workers were killed in Nayarit state.

In addition to those deaths, nine persons have died by drowning and a child was blown off a roof and killed.

Rail Freight Car Shortage Developing

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission reported today an acute shortage of railroad freight cars has developed in all sections of the country. It issued emergency rules designed to relieve the situation. Officials said the shortage had developed as a result of steadily increasing volume of rail freight movements in recent weeks, especially of grains and coal, noting that the freight volume decline last year resulted in smaller orders for new cars and a lag in the car-repair program.

Wenzell Produces Records

Adolphe Wenzell, former First Boston Corporation official and Budget Bureau aide, looks on as his counsel, Arthur Dean, passes over the record of the mortgage deed and trust of the Mississippi Valley Generator Company, during yesterday's hearing in the Senate Judiciary antitrust and monopoly subcommittee probe of the Dixon-Yates power contract.

Memphis Asked To Provide For City's Power

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The White House suggested today that before the Dixon-Yates contract is canceled out the mayor and City Council of Memphis vote to assume "sole responsibility" for providing the city's electric power.

That would be one way of assuring that the power needs of the Memphis area are met, James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, said in discussing the beleaguered contract.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said earlier that Eisenhower's "first team" was responsible for the Dixon-Yates project and that Democrats intend to make the administration's power policy a prime issue in the 1956 campaign.

Hagerty appeared to lay down more conditions for cancelling the private power contract than Eisenhower did himself when he discussed the question at his news conference Wednesday. The President said he would cancel if the "complete feasibility" of Memphis building its own power plant were established.

The Dixon-Yates interests have a contract with the government to build a 107-million-dollar generating plant at West Memphis, Ark. The intention was to provide power to replace that being drained from the Tennessee Valley Authority's system by installations of the Atomic Energy Commission.

But Memphis, which would have absorbed most of the additional power, announced it would not buy from Dixon-Yates, preferring to build its own plant instead. In that event, TVA said, the Dixon-Yates plant would not be necessary.

The 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church sent his cable Sunday, three days after receiving one from Peron.

The Argentine President, upon the occasion of the feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, had cabled his "respectful salute" to the pontiff.

Jury Indicts Rep. John Bell

SEGUIN, Tex., July 8 (AP)—U. S. Rep. John J. Bell (D-Tex.) of Cuero was indicted by the Guadalupe County grand jury this morning on a charge of conspiracy to commit theft.

Dist. Clerk Arthur Tschoepe of Seguin said the indictment charged Bell and two other Cuero men with conspiracy to commit theft amounting to $154,810. He anticipated a bond of $1,000 would be set in the case.

Others indicted were T. J. McLarty and J. T. Wofford Jr. Tschoepe said, McLarty has been indicted previously in connection with the state veterans land purchase scandal.

Bell had testified previously that he had received money in payment for legal services rendered in some land purchases. He is representative of the 14th District, serving his first term.

Ike To Confer With Sports Heads

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower will confer at a White House luncheon Monday with some 35 big name figures in the sports world on ways to reduce juvenile delinquency through greater participation of youths in competitive sports.

Names of the participants will be announced later, but Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, said they would include some world champions and coaches both in college and professional sports.

Husband Helps Deliver Wife's Seventh Child

MILWAUKEE, July 8 (AP)—Using only two pieces of boiled string and a scissors, Edwin Davy, 31, delivered his fourth child in an unassisted birth at home.

The only thing that excited him, he said, was that the baby was a boy. All the others are girls. There are seven children in all. Davy delivered four; two were born in hospitals and one was delivered by a doctor at home.

The mother, Mrs. Alida Davy, 32, said her husband was calm during the delivery yesterday but lost his aplomb afterward when he exclaimed, "It's a boy, it's a boy! Look at him, he's a boy."

Court Orders Child's Custody

DEDHAM, Mass., July 8 (AP)—Judge James F. Reynolds of Norfolk Probate Court today ordered sheriffs to bring before him — forthwith — 4-year-old Hildy McCoy, central figure in a two-year adoption controversy.

The child, born of a Roman Catholic mother, has been with a Jewish couple, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ellis, since she was 10 days old. An adoption petition was nullified in the same court two years ago, but the Ellises have refused to surrender the child.

The order was issued as a result of a petition brought by John F. McAuliffe, counsel for Marjorie McCoy Doherty, Hildy's mother.

The Ellises and the child were out of town last week when Judge Reynolds ordered them to surrender her. Counsel for the couple gained a delay in the State Supreme Court by asking for a review of the Probate Court action.

Yesterday McAuliffe sought to have the Ellises adjudged in contempt for disobeying the order to surrender the child. A hearing was ordered July 18.

Baby Is Born On Bus Trip

HIGH SPRINGS, Fla., July 8 (AP)—A Lake City to Tampa bus arrived at High Springs today with an extra passenger—a baby girl born to Mrs. Iona Buckles, 35, of Stateville, Ga., about two miles from the city.

Mrs. J. D. Hancock of Ocala, a mother of three, helped deliver the baby. She turned it over to Dr. P. D. Weeks about five minutes later when the bus reached High Springs.

Dr. Weeks reported the mother was doing all right. The baby, born three months prematurely, was in fair condition in an incubator at a Gainesville Hospital.

Monarch Distributes Land To Iranians

SHAHABAD, Iran, July 8 (AP)—Sah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi today distributed nearly 5,000 acres of crown land among 430 peasants who immigrated here from Eastern Iran.

The monarch now has distributed more than 200,000 acres of crown land among some 8,500 peasants. He started the land distribution scheme in 1952. The peasants make nominal payments of a few dollars a year for the land.

Wilson Opposes Change In Ike's Reserve Plans

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson today opposed proposals to change the Eisenhower military reserve program by exempting servicemen from compulsory service in the reserves.

Such a plan had been suggested by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He said it was unfair to compel men who have already enlisted or been drafted, and served regular hitches, to continue to carry a burden in the proposed new national reserve.

He suggested instead that a $400 bonus be offered these ex-servicemen if they voluntarily agree to three years of active reserve training in combat units of the Army and Marine Corps.

He said the Air Force and Navy reserves have testified they can get all the volunteers they need without such bonuses.

In a letter to Russell, Wilson said, "We cannot leave to chance the supply of experienced personnel who will provide the hard core of our reserve."

He asked that all eligible youths be made subject to eight years of obligatory service, counting active duty and reserve training.

Wilson's letter was written before details of Russell's proposal became known to him, but suggestions had previously been made that the requirements for ex-servicemen should be modified.

Wilson also opposed a provision, voted by the House, that would reduce from eight to six years the active and reserve service required of all draftees and volunteers.

Nation's June Employment Up

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—More than 64 million Americans had jobs in June. The government reported it was the highest employment figure in the nation's history.

From a May total of 62,073,000, the Labor and Commerce department said, civilian employment rose in June to 64,016,000. The previous high was in August 1953, when 63,790,000 men and women held jobs.

Unemployment during June increased by 190,000 to a total of 2,679,000, the departments reported. This was one of the smallest June increases since the busy years of World War II.

There was the usual flood of young job seekers after the schools closed in June, but their entrance in the labor market was largely offset by rising adult employment on farms and in factories.

Manufacturing employment continued its sharp rise, increasing by 148,000 to 16½ million. The length of the factory work week equalled the record of 40.7 hours. Farm employment, at 7,700,000 last month, showed only a seasonal gain.

Truman To Be Guest

KANSAS CITY, July 8 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman will leave here Monday morning by train to attend the Shrine convention in Chicago.

He will be the guest of Frank S. Land, imperial potentate of the Shrine.

Hoover Doesn't Expect 'Lasting Peace' From Big 4

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today he did not expect "a lasting peace" to result from the forthcoming Big Four conference at Geneva.

However, he said, "We might get what we can call an endurable peace for years to come; that's the most we can hope for."

He said, "A very, very able group of men is representing the United States."

The former President made the remarks as he boarded a United Air Lines plane for San Francisco for a month's vacation and "a little fishing."

Body Of Missing Girl, 4, Found In Cellar Grave

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 8 (AP)—The nude body of blonde, blue-eyed, 4-year-old Patricia Johnson—sexually abused and slain with an ax—was found today in a shallow grave in the cellar of the house next door to her home.

Hillsborough County Solicitor Conrad Dana said that next-door neighbor Walter Bourque Jr., 17, a shoe worker, admitted attacking the little girl sexually and then killing her when she said: "I'm going to tell my mother."

Little Patricia had been the object of an intensive search since she last was seen by her father Wednesday playing in front of their Douglas Street home. Police said the slender, dark-haired Bourque had been a volunteer searcher for the girl.

Dana said Bourque as saying he lured the child into the cellar of his home about 3:30 p. m., Wednesday. There, Dana said, the youth abused her sexually and she told him she was going to tell her mother.

Dana said Bourque told authorities: "I was afraid she would tell on me."

Bourque grabbed an ax, Dana said, and struck the little girl twice on the head and once in the back. The county solicitor said Patricia was dead about 15 minutes after she entered the cellar.

Dana quoted Bourque as saying he put the girl's body in a 2½-foot deep hole in the earth-floor cellar, covered it with dirt and placed a window screen over the grave.

Patricia's mother, Mrs. Richard Johnson, who is expecting a fourth child momentarily, collapsed and was placed under a doctor's care. The Johnsons have two sons, John, 6, and Richard Jr., 21 months.

Police Chief Francis J. McGranaghan said young Bourque made his confession to two police lieutenants—Alex Hould and William Kelley—who were making a house-to-house neighborhood search for Patricia.

Koreans Riot At Seducer's Trial

SEOUL, July 8 (AP)—Some 3,000 Koreans smashed windows and fought police for an hour today, trying to jam into the trial of a suave young Korean who brags he seduced 70 women in 12 months.

Would-be spectators fought with 15 mounted policemen and 100 of officers armed with riot clubs. But nobody got to hear the trial.

The trial was postponed indefinitely because of the near-riot and the judge ordered the next session closed to the public.

The defendant, handsome Pak In Soo, 25, is charged with seduction through false promises of marriage. He protested, "There was mutual consent."

Former Frogman Conquers Icy Juan de Fuca Strait

VICTORIA, B.C., July 8 (AP)—Bert Thomas, 29-year-old former frogman with the U. S. Marines, became the first swimmer to conquer Icy Juan de Fuca Strait today.

It was the fifth attempt by the husky 270-pound logger from Tacoma, Wash., and he swam the 18.3 miles from Port Angeles, Wash., to Victoria in 11 hours, 10 minutes, and do it the easy way," said Thomas, who was born in Durango, Colo., in 1925 and joined the Marines when he was 17. "I'm going to come back to Victoria in 11 hours, 10 minutes, and do it the hard way, between 'I tried four times to do it from July 16 and 19, from Victoria to Victoria to Port Angeles and didn't make it," Thomas said after arriving here to be greeted by his wife, 10-year-old daughter, and a $1,000 check offered by the Victoria Daily Times. Waiting for him in Port Angeles where he started his swim last night, was another $1,800 from first person to swim the strait.

His was the 13th attempt at the strait, and the 14th attempt begun early this morning by Mrs. Ann Mundie Meraw, 36, failed. A noted Canadian distance swimmer of the 1930's, she was taken from the water after three hours. It was her second attempt.

The final mile against swirling eddies and ebb currents required more than two agonizing hours for Thomas, who was spurred on by his daughter's shouts "go, Daddy, go." "I did it across that old strait the easy way," said Thomas, who was born in Durango, Colo., in 1925 and joined the Marines when he was 17. "I'm going to come back to Victoria in 11 hours, 10 minutes, and do it the hard way, between 'I tried four times to do it from July 16 and 19, from Victoria to Victoria to Port Angeles and didn't make it," Thomas said after arriving here to be greeted by his wife, 10-year-old daughter, and a $1,000 check offered by the Victoria Daily Times. Public Health Service Releases 300,000 Shots For Current Usage

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—A new research program aimed at "further improvement" of Salk polio vaccine was announced today by the government.

The Public Health Service also released 300,000 shots of the vaccine, the first made available since June 6 for the virtually stalled antipolio drive.

The PHS said the coming research program — involving government, university and industrial laboratories — might also help improve vaccines against other virus diseases.

The vaccine released was manufactured by Wyeth Laboratories of Marietta, Pa., and cleared under revised testing standards adopted on May 26.

A service spokesman said there were no indications as to when more vaccine would be released. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said on June 24 that its program of vaccinating first and second graders was stalled for the need of more vaccine and that six million "shots" would be necessary to complete it.

In a third action today, the PHS assigned one of its scientists to each of the six vaccine manufacturing plants. They will "facilitate more rapid exchange of information between scientists of the pharmaceutical industry and the federal government."

As for the research effort the PHS said it would delve into such things as:

1. Possible use of "other" strains of polio virus in the vaccine. The Salk vaccine now uses the Mahoney strain as a preventive against Type 1 polio. Inclusion of the Mahoney strain has been criticized by some virologists on the ground that it is too virulent. Dr. Jonas Salk says that, when properly made, his vaccine containing Mahoney strain is safe, but he himself has said that a different Type 1 virus is ultimately desirable.

2. "Improved tests for potency" of the vaccine and "the improvement of monkey safety tests."

3. Studies on "standardization of tissue culture susceptibility to poliomyelitis virus."

Tissue cultures are materials employed both for the growth of virus for vaccine and for testing the vaccine itself.

In another development, the PHS said it has decided to discontinue its previous system of releasing weekly summaries of polio cases among vaccinated children.

Radio Report Of Ship Sinking Said 'Prank,' Costs Over $50,000

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—A dramatic radio report of the sinking of the ghost ship Blue Star was written off as a hoax today by the Coast Guard. The prank cost the government $50,000.

"Our evaluation is that there is nothing out there," said Coast Guard Lt. Cmdr. James Doyle as a vast air-sea search was called off more than 30 hours after it began.

At least eight planes and six ships took part in a criss-cross of 4,000 square miles of the Atlantic Ocean in the vain hunt for the Blue Star.

A radio report early Thursday said the 40-foot fishing vessel was afloat and sinking and that a foreign submarine had picked up 21 survivors.

The defendant, handsome Pak In Soo, 25, is charged with seduction through false promises of marriage. He protested, "There was mutual consent."

FBI Arrests Pair For Bank Robbery

Girl, 17, Man Nabbed At Gunpoint

DETROIT, July 8 (AP)—A teen-aged, red-haired girl and her 27-year-old, ex-convict lover were grabbed at gunpoint by the FBI today and charged with a $23,000 Ohio bank robbery.

They also are wanted for questioning as possible teammates in other robberies, including one which netted $13,000 in cash and jewelry in suburban Detroit June 24.

Tabbed as dangerous, 17-year-old Lora Lee Ritenour and Louis Emery Teller surrendered without a fight. FBI agents feared they might get. Five apartment house neighbors were evacuated silently as agents closed in on the pair in a midnight raid.

Police Use Tear Gas

Neither heeded repeated orders by door-pounding agents to surrender, until a tear gas bomb fired through a kitchen window drove them out. They left behind a 12-gauge automatic shotgun loaded with buckshot, a loaded .45 caliber pistol, and a pencil-type tear gas gun.

Arraigned before Federal Judge Arthur Koscinski, Teller was held under $50,000 bond in the Jan. 14 holdup of a branch of the Cleveland (Ohio) Trust Co., plus $25,000 bond on a charge of having fled to avoid prosecution. Lora Lee was ordered held under $25,000 bond in the bank robbery.

As they were led back to jail, Mrs. Geneva Kasparian, of suburban Lincoln Park, told newsmen she was certain Lora and Lora were two of a trio who held her up June 24 at her husband's jewelry store, taking $3,000 cash and $10,000 worth of jewelry.

Wanted In Ohio

Louis is wanted in Ohio in connection with a Shaker Heights National Guard armory holdup in which a warrant officer was wounded and four sub-machine guns taken last March 17. He also is wanted for questioning in the $65,000 robbery of another branch of Cleveland Trust last March 4.

Lora is wanted in still another job, an Akron stickup last May 1. Teller is accused of being one of three armed, masked men who held up the Cleveland Trust branch at Detroit and 101 Sts.; Lora was being the getaway car driver.

Fourteen employees and 25 customers were terrorized by the bandits. Cleveland police described Teller as a dangerous exhibitionist who liked to pose in the nude, pointing pistols. They said Lora Lee was potentially more dangerous and an over-sexed, money-crazy female who often went around with three pistols pinned in her clothing.

Both had been objects of a nationwide hunt that finally led last night to the three-room Detroit apartment where they had lived since June 11 as Mr. and Mrs. James Miller.

Two Children Drown In Separate Mishaps

BALTIMORE, July 8 (AP)—A 20-month-old boy and 10-year-old girl drowned today in separate accidents in nearby Baltimore County waters.

Mary Ann McCumsey, 10, drowned in Middle River about 75 feet off the 100 block of River Thorne Road.

Richard Dennis Love, 20 months, perished in Back River near his home on the city's east outskirts.

Two Escaped York Felons Are Captured

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 8 (AP)—Two escaped prisoners from the York, Pa., jail, with four pistols and a stolen car loaded with loot from a dozen burglaries, surrendered to Jeffersonville police without a fight early today.

Capt. Charles O'Hern identified the men as Kenneth Norman Phillips, 28, and Ernest Lindsey, 22, both of Harrisburg, Pa. He said they cowed guards with a knife in their escape June 2.

Capt. O'Hern said Patrolmen Paul B. Coleman and Charles Smith investigated when they saw the men in an auto parked near an all-night service station.

Smith reported Lindsey had a .38 revolver in his lap, under a road map, but was blinded by the patrol car spotlight and dropped the gun on the floor. A 45 automatic and two .32 revolvers were found in the glove compartment.

Capt. O'Hern said the car, a new Oldsmobile 88 stolen from an Elk City, Okla., showroom July 2, had over 3,000 miles on the speedometer. He said Lindsey and Phillips admitted stealing four automobiles while they were traveling as far west as Las Vegas, Nev.

They didn't recall where they committed their burglaries but had a quantity of cigarettes with Nebraska state tax stamps and $5 in nickels stolen from Chattanooga, Tenn. Their loot also included a movie projector, a typewriter and an adding machine.

The men, charged with carrying concealed weapons, said they would waive extradition to Pennsylvania.

Du Pre Denies Misconduct In SRC Position

BALTIMORE, July 8 (AP)—Ben Du Pre said today that charges which led to his suspension as assistant right-of-way engineer for the State Roads Commission "are completely false."

He asked for a hearing "at the earliest possible date" in a letter to Russell S. Davis, State commissioner of personnel.

Du Pre's letter said: "As you may know, under date of June 10, 1955, Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, informed the undersigned, an assistant right-of-way engineer, of this suspension."

"The reason given therefore was 'to provide sufficient time for this commission or someone designated by it to investigate certain charges and accusations made by Dyke Cullum, a resident of Montgomery County, which, if true, may amount to misconduct on your part and reflect discredit on the entire organization of the State Roads Commission.'"

"The charges made by Mr. Cullum are completely false."

Du Pre was suspended for 30 days. Walter R. Tabler Jr., attorney for Du Pre, said his client blamed the complaints to "vindictiveness" by Cullum arising from dealings with the commission.

The lawyer said Cullum had told Du Pre "I'll get even with you" after court proceedings.

Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general assigned to the Roads Commission, went ahead with the commission investigation of land sales in Montgomery County.

He met again with Francis D. Alexander, a former real estate operator in Washington, who on Wednesday told the commission a syndicate of speculators had received advance information on proposed State routes.

Buscher said Alexander is co-operating in the probe and further developments are expected within a few days and will be made public at that time.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 8 (AP)—John Franklin Huber was sentenced to from eight to 16 years in jail today after the 49-year-old York, Pa., poultry farmer pleaded guilty to blackmailing his former wife, Mrs. Kathryn Hassel. She has admitted embezzling $100,000 in order to pay the "hush" money.

Huber, calm and self-composed, appeared before President Judge Joseph B. Wissler of Lancaster County Court to make his plea. His sentence will be served in Eastern State Penitentiary at Philadelphia.

The prosperous eastern Pennsylvania farmer was arrested last Saturday when police trapped him in an alleyway receiving money from Mrs. Hassel, trusted bookkeeper of the Darmstadter Store in Lancaster. The woman had admitted 24 hours earlier to systematically taking approximately $100,000 over an eight year period from the electrical appliance firm.

Some price changes were quite wide, but as a general thing they ranged from 2 points lower to 3 higher.

Sears Roebuck was an outstanding stock. It went ahead 4% at 103% after it was reported that directors meeting next week might consider discussing split possibilities.

General Motors, star of the past two days, on a proposal for a three-for-one split, lost 3/4 at 124%. It spent most of the day moving narrowly.

Olin Mathieson was strong on news of an agreement to buy Brown Paper Mill Co. which has large timber resources and paper-making facilities in the South. The stock advanced 3/4 at 64 1/2.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You don't have to be a great beauty to catch compliments when the mercury soars. Then a woman's most appealing charm is the look of impeccable freshness.

The charming woman is as meticulous about her undergarments as she is about her outer clothes. A fresh handkerchief goes in her bag or pocket every time she leaves the house. Her white gloves are always spanking clean.

If she wears all white . . . which is so appropriate at this time of the year and so flattering for a sun tan . . . it must be immaculate, snowy white like gloves. White jewelry gets a bath often, too. If there is any fear of harming the clasp or any part of a necklace, a small brush or damp cloth can be used.

Fashion offers such a collection of easy-to-wash clothes, that a woman can present a cool, crisp, pretty picture all summer.

If you're iron-shy, the drip-dry "miracles" will beautifully suit your needs. Dunk them in warm soapsuds and rinses, but never twist or wring them. Roll up in a large bath towel—this will remove a great deal of the moisture and often eliminate most of the pressing. If washed by machine, omit the spin-dry cycle. Hang jackets to drip dry on a padded hanger and pull gently to stretch seams, sleeves, collar bands, and jacket linings. Smooth other areas with the palms of your hands. Hang skirts from clamp hangers. If pleated, finger-press and smooth pleats. An electric fan placed nearby will hasten the drying, and if you need to give the garment a touch-up, use a cool iron.

Electronic Highway Scale Set Up In Va.

RICHMOND, Va., July 8 (AP)—Electronic equipment for weighing moving trucks is being installed on U.S. 1 three miles south of Woodbridge in northern Virginia, the State Highway Department announced today.

The installation in Virginia is the first of its kind east of the Mississippi River, said J. P. Mills Jr., the department's traffic and planning engineer. Similar equipment is in use in Oregon and Iowa. Use of the electronic highway scale is another step in the department's efforts to expedite the movement of traffic and make truck weighing more efficient, Mills said.

The state already has a system of stationary platform scales the department considers among the most up-to-date in the nation.

While work on the electronic scale is expected to be completed this week, Mills said full operation of the device will not be possible until various tests have been made and operational details worked out.

Frostburg College Dean Begins Tour To Labrador

FROSTBURG—Dean Ivan C. Diehl, Frostburg State Teachers College, left yesterday for an extended tour to New Foundland and Labrador.

In view of the fact that the Canadian National Railways operates but four trips each season to Labrador, Diehl began negotiations in March in order to secure passage this summer. There are few accommodations on the Labrador ship, consequently the passenger list is limited to 40.

Dean Diehl will drive to North Sydney, Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia where he will leave his car. He will make the 100 mile trip across Cabot Strait by steamer on Tuesday night, July 12, landing at Port Aux Basques, Newfoundland on the 13th. From here he will travel to St. John's, capital of Newfoundland, by narrow gauge railway arriving there on the 14th. After two days of sight-seeing in St. John's, Diehl will board the SS. Kyle for a two weeks trip to Labrador. The steamer will make 44 ports of call on the Newfoundland and Labrador coasts weaving in and out of the numerous fiords delivering supplies to fishing stations.

Dean Diehl plans to make a feature length 16mm Kodachrome motion picture of the trip emphasizing life along the coast line of Newfoundland and Labrador, but focusing it largely on the Eskimo. Upon returning to North Sydney, Diehl plans to ferry his car to Prince Edward Island in order to tour the "Garden of the Gulf," also known as the home of the silver-blue fox farms. While in Charlottetown, he will visit Edwin C. Johnstone who was Rotary Governor of District 284 at the same time Diehl was Governor of District 164.

Enroute to Frostburg, Diehl will stop to see the spectacular tidal bore in the Petitcodiac River at Moncton, N. B., the famous reversing falls in the St. John River at St. John, N. B., and the much discussed tide-harnessing project at Eastport, Maine.

After a brief visit with Leonard E. Pearl who recently retired from the faculty at Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., Dean Diehl will return to Frostburg on August 8.

THE CAPTAIN'S FIRST KEEL

Little does this young master know that in naval lingo a ship is often a "keel." And he hardly could be expected to understand why.

In a moment he'll launch his vessel on the crest of a dying wave, and barring mishap, watch it ride to sea until the next breaker drives it again to shore. And if, perchance, she stays upright and turns again to sea he'll never realize that her seaworthiness is primarily a matter of having the right keel.

The Captain's life will be like his ship! He'll have to face the breakers' roll just as the rest of us do. Whether he remains upright, ready for the next onslaught, or washes up on the beach, is going to depend on the moral and spiritual undergirding of his life.

We can't expect this Captain to know how important a keel can be. But everyone expects his parents, with the help of the Church, to provide him with the best keel a young master can have—a positive, courageous faith in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rules Of Court May Be Printed In County Code

The insertion of the rules of Circuit Court of this county in the new code of local laws of Allegany county, now being drawn, was discussed Tuesday by the Board of County Commissioners.

Gorman E. Getty, board attorney, said Dr. Carl Everstine, director of the State Department of Legislative Reference, had conferred with the judges here on the move.
Dr. Everstine informed Getty that the work would add 20 pages to the county laws being brought up to date through a bill passed by the General Assembly.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson asked Getty, "Who's idea is it, and will it cost more?"
Getty answered that it was Dr. Everstine's suggestion and informed Wilkinson that the extra printing will cost additional funds, but he was not certain of the exact amount.

Getty will furnish the figures at the next meeting, it was reported.

Woman Is Released

Mrs. Alline V. Jones of Bowman's Addition, who was committed to Allegany County Jail on Wednesday on an unusual state charge, was released that evening, according to jail attaches.

Mrs. Jones, who was ordered committed by Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, had pleaded guilty to selling personal property purchased under a conditional sales contract without the consent of the mortgagee. She was released after making restitution for the two items she admitted selling.

Lemmert Refutes Charges Of Waste

Charges of "waste and extravagance" in the county government by the local B&O Shop Craft Federation brought stinging rebuttals yesterday by William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A letter from Kenneth W. Alderton, secretary of B&O Shop Craft's Federation 7, was read at the board meeting yesterday morning. C. N. Wilkinson made it clear from the beginning that when Lemmert said the collective noun, "We," Lemmert was speaking only for himself and Commissioner James Orr.

Wilkinson refused to sign the 1955-56 tax levy and budget.

Charges Against Sailor Dismissed

Two charges arising from an automobile accident June 25 at Attleboro, Mass., have been dismissed and a third suspended for a 29-year-old local sailor.
Paul A. Shook, of Cumberland, was tried before District Court Judge William A. McGivney.

Police recommended that a charge of driving to endanger, to which Shook pleaded guilty, be suspended. Other counts alleging operation of an unlicensed and uninsured motor vehicle were dropped for lack of prosecution.

German Youths Seem Non-Militaristic Now

During the two world wars the United States has fought in, it was widely contended that the German people were militaristic, always had been, and always would be. That there could be exceptions many were willing to admit. Many immigrants from Germany said frankly that they left to escape compulsory military training.

After World War I, some thought German militarism had been destroyed forever, but Hitler proved that its spores lay waiting in German soil to spring up overnight when the international climate changed. Will something of the sort happen again?

France fears it. Russia plays on such fears while she maneuvers to detach Germany's military potential from Western defense plans. But the German people themselves seem at the moment to be almost embarrassingly non-militaristic.

Chancellor Adenauer has been having a little difficulty getting his mild rearmament legislation through the West German Parliament. Some clue to the reason for his difficulty is provided by the German Institute of Public Opinion, which polled German adolescents a few months ago and found among them a very considerable distaste for military glory.

Among youths born between 1938 and 1944, the poll indicated, only 27 per cent wanted to be soldiers, even temporarily. A bare 36 per cent said without enthusiasm that they would accept military service if it could not be avoided. The remaining 37 per cent were not put on record as to what they would do if a showdown came, but they plainly wanted no part of military service.

Other questions asked the youths provided a cross-check on their sincerity. They were asked, for instance, to name the prominent men, past or present, whom they admired most. Only one per cent named soldiers and four per cent named political leaders; eight per cent named movie actors.

This may not prove that German militarism will never rise again, but the rising generation seems to have little interest in it. Change is at least possible. The peaceable Swedes were once one of Europe's most militaristic peoples.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Disarmament

The Geneva Conference must come to grips with the question of disarmament. The world is being bankrupted, financially and morally, by the race for supremacy between the United States and Soviet Russia. And other countries are getting into this contest: recently, Red China claimed the fourth place among nations for its air force.

The atmosphere of the moment indicates that the Russians are unusually anxious to find a solution to problems which face the nations of the world and which almost led to war last spring. Never has a country entered upon so full a campaign for goodwill. Khrushchev's visit to Tito; the invitation to Adenauer to visit Moscow; the visit of Krishna Menon to this country and his barrage of "good-will" on radio and television; the admission of American tourists who can go to "every" part of Russia except the slave labor camps; Molotov's smiling tour over the United States—these, and Khrushchev's speech at the American Embassy in Moscow on the Fourth of July, are a few examples of the calculated effort to produce goodwill.

And who knows? Maybe the new regime in Soviet Russia, headed by Nikita Khrushchev, wants a long breathing period after 10 years of the cold war. I have read a large number of broadcasts delivered to the Russian people on their own radio networks and the tone is exactly the same. The tendency is to express sadness at the failure of the United States to appreciate the desire of the Soviet world for peace.

In a word, the Russians give the appearance, at any rate, of needing the cold war to come to an end. If that is really their necessity, there is hope in this world for peace in our times.

The question, however, is not the atmosphere that can be developed during a pre-conference publicity campaign. What counts is the proposals that Soviet Russia will make at the Geneva Conference and their reactions to our proposals.

Then it gets down to a meeting of minds on paper. The little that can be accomplished in six days is not to deter us. The meeting at the summit was never practical; it was a dramatic idea, the brainchild of Sir Winston Churchill, but the father was Stalin. After the lofty gentlemen have dined and wine and conversed, the work will have to be done by the Foreign Ministers and their experts.

When it comes to the crucial question of disarmament, the discussion will be over the precise facts of the moment and then each side will be faced by the other's willingness to lay all the data on the table. How much are we willing to tell the Russians about our work in atom and hydrogen bombs and how much are they willing to tell us? This can involve ticklish decisions, because one side or the other may give away its hand to no advantage and suffer a strategic defeat of enormous dimensions. Each side will have to be wary lest the other side use the meeting only to get more information.

The problem then is how to end the race for unconventional weapons. If a formula of inspection, control and public reporting can be found, if all secrecy is removed from the field of weapons, the danger of the unconventional weapons can be removed and the devastating arms race can be ended.

President Eisenhower often uses the word, "sincerity," and it is not a well-chosen word in politics because how is one ever to know what is hidden in the consciousness of a statesman? The truly great diplomat, Talleyrand, was always sincere; that is, he always believed that Talleyrand should win the stakes. He was sincere about that. Stalin was sincere in getting the best of every situation.

But there does come a time when wars and their warlike aftermaths must end because the peoples of various countries cannot continue to suffer their consequences. Soviet Russia must produce more consumers' goods if her peasants are to provide food; the United States must relieve its citizens of the burden of taxation and must put an end to its creeping inflation.

Therefore, this may be the time when practical politicians, in their own interests, as well as to the advantage of their peoples, will labor valiantly to put an end to the armament race. It could be a Godsend.

Or Have Something Sent In

Krishna Menon Seen As Partisan, Not Mediator

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Krishna Menon, described as "India's roving ambassador" but who is really an instrument of Soviet policy, is getting quite a publicity buildup in America—which is exactly what he sought in order to enable him to carry out his mission of so-called mediation between Red China and the United States.

Not only has Menon interjected himself as a "mediator" and virtually demanded that President Eisenhower give him time for conversation "at the summit" here, but he would, if he could, continually bypass the Secretary of State. Fortunately, Mr. Eisenhower doesn't see alleged envoys of the Communist or neutralist world without Mr. Dulles being present.

Menon was given an opportunity to address the National Press Club here this week. He also obtained the limelight during the recent United Nations celebration in San Francisco. His doubletalk, however, has never been more vividly illustrated than in his answers to questions. Thus, when he took issue at the Press Club with the blanket description of India as "neutralist," he said:

"We are not neutral in regard to peace and social justice. . . . We are not neutral toward attempts to conciliate international differences."

But a few minutes later Menon said his country was not "concerned with who is right and who is wrong" but wanted to find a way to solve the whole problem of Americans held by Red China.

It doesn't apparently make any difference to Krishna Menon whether the Communists have violated their written pledge, given at Panmunjom, to return all prisoners of war. His idea of impartiality was revealed when he was asked whether he regarded the present "softness" of the Soviet as genuine. He replied that "We have found it better to accept people for what they say and not suspect them."

Such studied indifference to the laws of morality and justice and to the honoring of sacred pledges can be expected from a Communist regime, but Menon is trying to pose as a "neutral" and as a "mediator." He actually accepts the immorality of the Soviet policies by calling it "realism."

Menon declared that the leaders of India—one of whom he professes to be—are "realists" and that, if adopting "any particular viewpoint" at a certain time "becomes advantageous, we try it."

There's the whole case for expediency and against moral principle, as expressed by the man who is given prominence on his visits to this country and who is received with open arms in Moscow. Menon isn't influenced at all by the fact that 40,000 American boys were killed and 110,000 wounded in Korea in order to repel aggression and secure obedience to a United Nations resolution seeking to establish morality in the world.

The "roving ambassador" from New Delhi isn't evidently concerned either with the fact that the United Nations declared Red China an aggressor and that the Peiping government insulted and denounced the U. N. at Geneva last year and still refuses to allow a settlement of the Korean problem to be undertaken under the auspices of the U. N. The Red China government naturally wants its partisan, Krishna Menon, to handle

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Peace conferences in various towns, temperatures and altitudes are pretty much like our world fairs.

They're scheduled to boost culture, improve relations, accelerate merchandising and promote the genial welfare.

Smatter of marginal notation a world fair is attended by tourists who hitch-hike into town, camp out in the public parks, go on local relief and are sent home, by the Travelers' Aid Society.

Right now we are between San Francisco and the deep blue Geneva. The Battle of the Bulge in the portfolio continues.

Mr. Dulles spoke horizontal with the epaulets, was as clear as consommé and came out flat-footed for dignity, honor and wedgies.

Mr. Molotov wants to seat the Chinese but it's no dice. Sorry.

but in Ripley's book they're marching.

Ten years ago at the first UN we discovered the international diplomat whose head came to a point before the subject.

He was back again much refreshed. He astonished us by joining in the applause for Dulles. And you can saw the floor out from under me if Molotov didn't too.

Molotov applauded Dulles' five rebuttals to Molly's seven solutions. He may have figured he was still two ahead.

Trouble with these senior seminars is Moscow wants peace the worse way.

The main gimmick in peace in our time is to set the tempo.

Right now it looks like waltz time.

Congress Wages Backstage Battles Over Funds For Medical Research

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—While the battle over Salk polio vaccine has been waged in the headlines, another battle involving many diseases besides polio—cancer, heart disease, epilepsy, muscular dystrophy—is being waged privately between a handful of Congressmen. Upon its outcome will depend in part the health of the nation in the next few years.

The public doesn't realize that some of the most vital issues are threshed out in the backstage conferences between the two conference committees of the House and Senate after a bill has passed. In this case the row is over how much money shall go to medical research, and one argument is between two Democrats—Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, who wants more money spent on health research, and Congressman John Fogarty of Rhode Island, who wants to stick with Mrs. Hobby's restricted budget.

In the past, Fogarty has been called by Congressman Rooney of New York "the outstanding Congressional leader in the field of public health." In the past, Fogarty has battled the meat-axing of Congressman John Taber of New York when it came to chopping the health budget.

But not this year. This year, for some strange reason, Fogarty seems to be siding with his old, penny-pinching critic, Mr. Taber.

At stake in the argument is about $24,000,000 for the expanded program that Senator Hill has put through the Senate to train more doctors and to dig further for the cures to the nation's number one killer diseases. The program has been approved by the country's top medical specialists and has been passed by the Senate, but not by the House of Representatives. That's thanks to Fogarty of Rhode Island.

New Medical Dawn
Sen. Lister Hill happens to be named for Lord Joseph Lister of London, discoverer of antiseptic surgery. The Senator's father studied under Lord Lister and later performed the first successful operation on the human heart. So his son, the Senator from Alabama, has a keen interest in medicine and is convinced that medical science is on the verge of great new discoveries.

Cures for cancer, leukemia and heart disease, he believes, are just around the corner. He points out that in the last 14 years, life expectancy has been extended 8.5 years, chiefly through research into the causes and cures of such major killers as rheumatic fever, appendicitis, influenza, syphilis and TB.

Yet because of the following facts, Senator Hill considers it doubtful that the rate of progress can be maintained without more federal help:

—A shortage of 22,000 to 45,000 doctors.

—A great need for money to finance research.

—Lack of $150,000,000 to build laboratories in which the research can be carried out.

—Urgent need for 600,000 to 800,000 more hospital beds.

To partially remedy this situation, the advisory council of doctors which helps steer the Public Health Service recommended an appropriation of $139,573,000 this year. Mrs. Hobby, however, wanted only $73,958,000. The Senate then went over the lady's head and gave her an additional $24,000,000 whether she wanted it or not.

Animals vs. Humans

Her colleague, the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benson, gets $51,079,563 for agricultural research into the cause of Bangs disease in cows, hog cholera, hoof and mouth disease and various other farm diseases and problems. Nevertheless Mrs. Hobby stuck by her meagre figure of $73,958,000 for research into human diseases, not the $97,000,000 voted her by the Senate.

And she's been depending on a Democrat, Congressman Fogarty of Rhode Island, to scale the Senate figure down. Various Democrat leaders have gone to Democratic Congressman Fogarty to urge more funds for medical research. Even Speaker Sam Rayburn has urged him to agree to the Senate bill with its higher appropriation. But still the Congressman from Rhode Island says no.

Joe Martin's Visitor

Ex-Speaker Joe Martin is one of the busiest men in Congress. He has to attend White House conferences. He helps chart Republican strategy. He must keep sometimes rebellious Republicans lined up behind Ike. However, the kindly Congressman from Massachusetts has time to do a lot of little things. The other day he told friends this story:

"A few days ago there pranced into my office, nimble and spry as you please, a man from California 96 years old. He recalled to me that he had met me while I was out in his state making speeches last year, and that I had told him to come and see me if ever he visited Washington."

"Well, I remembered, and here I am," he said. Then he told me:

"My son would like to get the President's autograph for him on this photo."

"I asked him, 'how old is your son?' and he said 'fourteen years.' 'Don't you mean your grandson?' I suggested, but he insisted, 'No, my son.'"

"So I got him the President's autograph and told him not to forget to call on me for the same kind of chore whenever there was an increase in his immediate family."

"He said, 'I'll be back.'"

Washington Pipeline

Sen. Kerr Scott of North Carolina felt a bit neglected when Senator Langer, his Republican colleague from North Dakota, implied that there were no dirt farmers in the United States Senate. Senator Byrd of Virginia, the millionaire apple-grower, in Langer's opinion was not a dirt farmer. Senator Scott mildly pointed out in the cloakroom that he was a dairy farmer and had been a dairy farmer all his life. Scott is right. He has long made a living at dairying. . . . After Senator Butler, Republican of Maryland, tangled vitriolically with Senator Kefauver of Tennessee over the Dixon-Yates project, he sat down on the Senate floor beside Senator Gore, also of Tennessee, and half-apologized. "The Administration," he said, "is in so deep on Dixon-Yates that it can't back down. It has to go through this." This was the signal which had been given to Republican Senators at that time. Shortly thereafter, however, Eisenhower changed the signals.

Midsummer Fantasies

By Brother Barnabas

Action is always followed by reaction. Human interest in anything does not run on an even keel. It goes by waves and has its ups and downs.

After a vacation or a holiday we need time to recuperate before going back to work.

Anticipating a lull after the Fourth, special sales are planned to stimulate buying; and athletic, musical and competitive programs are put on to keep public interest from sagging too low.

The heat of midsummer slows down our mental processes so that we don't always think straight, and our bodily movements become phlegmatic.

Meet Mrs. Malaprop! She is "gifted" at all kinds of lapsus lingue — solecisms, neologisms, sophisms. She says her daughter is very poplar and has more beaux than she can tie.

Watching the plummer at work, she remarked, "I see you are roughing the pipes!" "No," said he, "I'm aluminum-ing 'em, mum!"

Many arguments are won or lost by specious reasoning. They look good on the surface but won't hold water. The "undistributed middle" is a fallacy often employed in logic. It goes like this:

"All men are sinners, all weaklings are sinners, therefore all weaklings are sinners." Or,

"All policemen have big feet. Uncle John has big feet, therefore Uncle John is a policeman."

"Post hoc, ergo propter hoc" is the Latin rendering of arguing from mere temporal sequence to cause and effect relationship. Thus, if enough "Brothers of the Brush" grow enough beard the Washington Crossing will be opened sometime in September or later. That too is a fallacy.

Loose thinking and irresponsible talking cause misunderstanding and bad feeling among the nations as U N told us the other night over TV, and if "U Nu" who the candidates are to be in '56 who could make a lot of money.

Other than mental fantasies are spawned by summer heat and relaxations. There are moral and spiritual aberrations that thrive when our guards are down. "The descent to Avernus is easy." The Puritans were so holy they had to hold onto the huckleberry bushes to keep from being translated. In this generation the pull is in the opposite direction.

Vacation time is the devil's seedbed. "Good-bye, God, I'll see you sometime after Labor Day" is the theme song of the modern hedonist. "The gate is wide and the way is easy that leads to destruction" (Matt. 7:13).

The titulating Bicentennial committee is doing a spanky job in keeping the public on the quiver, looking forward to the grand slam in August.

While inviting governors and mayors and other high dignitaries, don't forget Eisenhower. He might feel slighted and in retaliation withhold an appropriation in consideration of our venerability. The cast for the big show would not be complete without him.

Besides, the Geneva Big-Four conference will be over by that time and the garbage collection snafu will have gone down the drain, and he will have nothing else to do but sit on one of those accommodating settees that line Baltimore Street, waiting for the bus that is either ahead of, or behind its schedule.

And won't his face be red when on looking down he discovers that he has been sitting over a "fifth" of bourbon which the garbage collector has failed to pick up.

In the growth of language a new word has come on the scene outside the orbit of our common speech. It is not found in the Bible, nor yet in Shakespeare, although the experience of it is not foreign. It stands for the coincidence of something always happening of an agreeable nature when it is least expected. The word is "serendipity." Do you have it?

You go to the bank to pay a note, and some little fairy has paid it for you. Your wife, expectant, goes to the hospital, a normal procedure.

While you are wondering whether it will be a he or a she, and how you will pay the bill, lo, it is neither he nor she, but they!

Such instances are happenstance in life. A stalwart, rock-ribbed character is a larer guarantee of good fortune than a happy coincidence.

A Swiss hotel proprietor always honored an Englishman's cheque. Only once had he been deceived, and then all the Englishmen in the hotel chipped in to make the cheque good. He was no snide.

Honi soit qui mal y pense. (Shamed be he who thinks evil of it.)

Air-conditionally speaking, BROTHER BARNABAS

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

An elephant being trailer-trucked to Detroit for a political gathering became nauseated en route and couldn't put in an appearance. Politics affects some people, too, like that.

Plowing, according to an authority, is better exercise than playing a game of golf. Never can become as popular, though, until caddies are furnished to do all the heavy work.

Try And Stop Me!

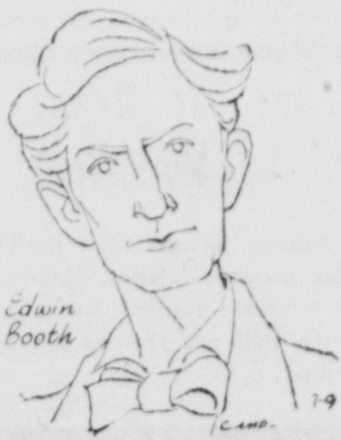

By Bennett Cerf

Edwin Booth, stage immortal, did not lack for competition when he was at the height of his career. P. T. Barnum was featuring the "handsomest fat girl" (18 years old, weight 618 pounds) and the "tiniest" (25 inches tall, 30 pounds), not to mention a living whale and a hippopotamus. "The Black Crook" was making men-about-town tights conscious; Augustin Daly was providing lurid melodrama at 10-20-30 cents a ticket; and Ada Mencken climaxed her performance by being strapped, half stripped, to a black stallion on a treadmill.

A.D. 1868 also marked the year when "burlesque" made its debut in New York, and gents began preferring blondes. And at a ball game in Brooklyn, between the local Athletics and the Philadelphia Athletics, 30,000 fans turned out, completely overflowing the field and stopping the game after one inning. Refunds were made, but not until a real riot was narrowly averted.

Mary Ann Downey Wins CCC Tourney Third Straight Year

Sudden Death Playoff Marks 5th Test Here

Baltimore Champion Defeats Mrs. Glick And Retires Trophy

In a "sudden death" playoff that went three additional holes, Mary Ann Downey, of the Baltimore Country Club, recognized as Maryland's No. 1 woman golfer, emerged the winner of the Cumberland County Club's Fifth Invitational Golf Tournament by defeating her old rival, Mrs. Maurice Glick, of the Woodholme Country Club, seven times Baltimore City champion, yesterday over the local course.

The playoff was necessitated when the two Baltimore stars finished the regulation 36 holes deadlocked with scores of 158. Miss Downey posted a 77-81-158 while Mrs. Glick carded an 80-78-158.

On the first hole of the overtime session, both players shot par fours. They remained even with par fives on the second hole. On the third, however, Mrs. Glick missed a short putt by a "whisker" and then Miss Downey canned an eight-footer for a birdie-three to win the match and her third title here in successive years.

The victory gave the current Baltimore City and Eastern States champion permanent possession of the Old Export Bowl—a large silver punch bowl—that was donated by the Cumberland Brewing Company in 1951.

Miss Musser Is Third

Third place in the two-day tourney went to Miss Mary Ann Musser, youthful star, and daughter of Johnny Musser, pro at the Allview Country Club, of Ellicott City. The 16-year-old player posted an 80-83-163.

Three strokes back of Miss Musser was Mrs. Iva Noble of the Kenwood Country Club, Washington, D. C. with an 82-84-166. Fifth place was captured by Mrs. J. W. Y. Martin, of the Green Spring Valley Country Club, Baltimore, with 80-89-169 while Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's No. 1 golfer, came in sixth with a 36-hole card of 80-90-170.

Cops Low Net Prize

The prize for low net for the field, the Cumberland Bicentennial trophy, a silver vase, went to Mrs. Douglas Wolfe, of the Country Club, of Maryland, whose score was 181-28-153.

A total of twenty-seven silver trophies were distributed to players at the conclusion of the tournament.

The 92 contestants from six states, the District of Columbia and Havana, Cuba were divided into three divisions, according to their handicaps, with 1-13 making up the top division, 14 to 21, the second, and 22 to 25 the third.

Mrs. Maurice Glick, runner-up for the title, won the silver bowl offered by Radio Station WCUM.

Local Women Earn Prizes

Mrs. Helen Wise of the Cumberland Country Club turned in low net score of 176-20-156 in the first division, won the Cumberland News trophy while the Cumberland Evening and Sunday Times Trophy was captured by Mrs. T. V. Wilder, of the Manor Country Club, with low net score in the second division of 160.

Mrs. Henry Mackey, of the Cumberland Country Club turned in low net score of 215-50-165 in the third division and won the Wilson Hardware Company trophy.

Prizes for low gross scores in each division went to Miss Mary Ann Musser 80-83-163; Mrs. Somerville Nicholson, Cumberland Country Club 90-100-193 and Mrs. N. S. Almon, Country Club of Maryland, 97-105-202.

Orioles Obtain Detroit Hurler

Part With $10,000 For George Zuverink

BALTIMORE, July 8 (AP)—Pitcher George Zuverink of the Detroit Tigers became the third player in less than two weeks to be taken by the Baltimore Orioles for the minimum price of $10,000.

The Orioles previously had taken infielder Hank Majeski and Outfielder Dave Philley when offered by Cleveland to any American League team willing to pay $10,000. The Orioles get first choice because they are in last place.

To make room for Zuverink, who will be 29 years old next month, the Orioles offered Pitcher Bob Alexander for the same waiver price. If nobody takes him, he will be released. The Orioles had recalled him recently from Portland with exactly that in view.

The Tigers bought Zuverink from Cincinnati in the spring of 1954. He won nine and lost 13 for them last year, but this year had a 0-5 record.

Sandy Saddler Wins By TKO In Japan

TOKYO, July 8 (AP)—World featherweight champion Sandy Saddler of the United States outboxed Shigeji Kaneko of Japan for a technical knockout in the sixth round of their 10 round non-title fight last night.

The towel was thrown in at 2:01 of the sixth.

Saddler weighed 131 1/4 pounds. Kaneko, 128.

"Little Marciano," as fans here call Kaneko, carried the fight from the opening gong, bullying in and plastering the easy going champion. He displayed his best wares in round two, opening a cut in Sandy's mouth and ripping in some left hooks afterward which Saddler admitted, "Hurt me, shook me some."

The American Negro opened up in the third, smashing blood from the Japanese's mouth and nose and lumping up his left eye and cheek bone.

Ever Get Hooked

BOSTON (AP)—If a fishhook becomes imbedded in your flesh the American Mutual's Institute for Safer Living says the best way to remove the hook is to cut off the point if the point comes through the flesh. If the point doesn't come through force it through and cut it off with sharp pliers, says the institute.

Hots Are Given 16-5 Walloping

Scoring seven runs in the first inning, the Stoves, composed of players from the Lions, Optimists, Jaycees and Rotary Club, walloped the Hots, a combination of players from B'nai B'rith, Times-News, Kiwanis and Exchange, by the score of 16-5 in the Hot Stove League's All-Star game last night at Penn Avenue Field.

The winners collected 10 hits, including a triple and single by Paige of the Optimists and a three-base wallop by Marralle of the Optimists. Richard Murray, also of the Optimists, starred at short.

Jimmy Peters, of the Lions, pitched hitless and runless ball for the Stoves in the first three innings and received credit for the win.

Imes, of Kiwanis, who started on the prk for the Hots, was charged with the defeat. O'Neal, of Exchange Club, blasted a homer for the Hots while Gary Butts, Kiwanis shortstop, and "Doc" Richards, first sacker of the Exchange Club, were the field stars for the losers.

Each team sent 18 players into action. Score:

Barber Holds Lead In St. Paul Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 8 (AP)—Jerry Barber, the tiny perfectionist from Los Angeles, shattered the St. Paul Open's 36-hole record today to take a three-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $15,000 tournament.

Barber tacked a 66 onto his first round 63 for 129 as 38 golfers reached the halfway turn under par at vulnerable Keller course. Barber, one of the smallest players on the pro circuit, was 15 under par after two rounds.

His 129 broke by a stroke the record set by Henry Ransom in 1952.

Barber, however, wasn't making a runaway of the tournament with his sensational start. Arnold Palmer, 1954 National Amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., trailed by only three strokes with 132, and Tommy Bolt was in third place with 133. Palmer shot a 67 today and Bolt a 68.

Junior Brelsford notched his 7th straight pitching triumph and the Potomac Valley Old Germans extended their victory streak to 14 games by trimming Stringtown in a County Softball League game yesterday at Stringtown by the score of 6-2.

Brelsford yielded only five hits, including a triple and single by Cliff Clites. Barton and Moreland pounded a double and single each for the victors.

The Sports Shoppe defeated Kennell's Mill in a nine-inning battle by the score of 6-5. Johnny Price's single, Don Rose's walk and Jack Clauson's two-base hit off relief pitcher Paul Stair after the latter had retired the first two batters he faced on pop ups decided the overtime contest.

Schad tied it up in the 8th when he blasted a two-run homer for Kennell's Mill.

"Boots" Raygor blasted a triple, double and two singles and Billy Clauson banged a two-bagger and two singles for the Sports Shoppe.

The game was transferred from Kennell's Mill to Corriganville after the first inning was completed due to a heavy downpour that made the field unfit for play.

A CASE OF WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

IN THE deal below West was in a perfect position to deliver a crushing defense, but it required both imagination and cold nerve and West probably lacked one or the other.

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♣ A 9 7 5

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 2♠ Pass
2♥ Pass 3♥ Pass
4♥ Pass

Since South did not rebid hearts directly, but only after he had first raised North's minor suit, North should not have accepted the four-heart contract—he should have persisted to five clubs. True, he would lose that contract by failing to guess the precise club situation, but South was in at least as dangerous a contract at four hearts.

West opened his fourth-highest spade and East played the king and ace. South had to ruff—if he had declined to do so, East could have shifted to clubs and soon secured a club ruff. South then led a diamond to dummy and returned a trump, finessing. West won—and that was the end of the defense. South later lost a club trick by guessing wrong after East played the queen on South's ace, but 10 tricks were safe for North-South—four trumps, four diamonds and the two top clubs.

Now let's consider what West might have done.

West himself knew that he had the trump king with only one guard, but South could have no such knowledge. So, if West played low on the first trump lead without hesitation, South would inevitably go back to the board for another finesse. And when West took this trick, a spade continuation would again shorten South in trumps and put him down two tricks.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, July 8 (INS)—It sometimes comes as a surprise to learn that other countries have juvenile delinquents, too. Even Britain, a most proper place. The Rev. J. Butterworth, a remarkable soul who has operated for 34 years in one of London's worst slums, fills me in on the meaning of a term you may sometimes see—"teddy boys."

"The teddy boys are the London counterparts of your zoot suited hoodlums," he told us. "It's a corruption of 'Edward'. The boys attempt to dress as did the dandies of the Edwardian era: Velvet collars, long jackets, tight stove-pipe trousers, black ties and flashy socks."

"It's expensive dress and pathetic exhibitionism, and all adds up to a display of misplaced bravado. The movement attracts aimless youths to rival gangs in the hope of becoming 'important'... clever... tough."

Butterworth, a boy could never have afforded to become a teddy boy. The little fellow was poorer than a church mouse, sold papers at eight, went to work in a Lancashire cotton mill at 12. He served with the Lancashire Fusiliers in the great war of 1914-1918, which, as everyone knows, ended all wars, became a parson, and pledged his life to lifting the hearts, minds and souls of the children of squalor.

By 1922 he had raised the handful of pounds that enable him to rent a room and take in five home-less boys. On May 20, 1939, Queen Mary opened his "Clubland," a fine $400.00 copy of our Boys Town or George Junior Republic.

On the tenth of May, 1941, the Luftwaffe came over London in force and in 20 second obliterated the Rev. Butterworth's 20 back-breaking years of work. With bombs still falling, dozens of young former toughs whose lives had been salvaged by club activities fought the flames through the night. They lost.

The long job of rebuilding began. It continues. Butterworth became a hawker in the Sunday markets, picking up the first shillings of the rebuilding fund. The money came slowly. What Queen Mary had called a "temple of youth" was but one of countless places that had to be restored to the map of London.

It was a dark time for the little man. Never in his memory had his part of London needed a youths' haven more than in the rudderless days after the war. He turned his eyes to this country. With five pounds sterling (the legal take-away money) and a round-trip ticket supplied by Col. Eddie Egan, former New York state boxing commissioner and once amateur heavyweight champion of the world, the little man reached this country—broke and friendless, save for the Eagans.

They put him on to John Considine, the Hollywood producer who produced the Boys Town pictures for Metro. One day the British parson showed up as a sight-seer on the Paramount set where

Md. Lawmakers To Visit West End Of State

Will Spend 4 Days In Allegany, Garrett

The Legislative Council, the interim body of Maryland's General Assembly, has scheduled a four-day visit to Western Maryland, Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, the Western Maryland member of the Council, announced last night.

Del. Driscoll said the Council, at its meetings in Baltimore earlier this week, made plans to begin its Western Maryland tour here the night of Wednesday, August 10.

He said the members of the council plan to arrive in Cumberland about 9:30 p. m. on August 10.

The legislators will spend all day and night in Allegany County and on Friday, August 12, will leave here for Garrett County, where they will spend the afternoon and night, returning to their homes on Saturday.

Verification of the dates was received yesterday by Del. Driscoll and Senator Charles M. See.

Senator See will make arrangements for the tour of Allegany County, and Senator Clifford Friend in Garrett County.

It is expected that the Legislative Council will confer here with local public officials and visit Frostburg State Teachers College and Miners Hospital.

They are expected to visit Deep Creek Lake, Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor while touring Garrett County.

The Legislative Council has scheduled a visit to the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland next week, leaving Annapolis July 13 on an inspection tour of state institutions.

Integration Will Begin In Mineral County

Board To Close Howard School

Integration, as far as possible, will become effective in Mineral County Public Schools when the next school year opens in September, S. T. McGee, county superintendent of schools, said yesterday.

At the meeting of the county school board Thursday evening, it was announced that bids will be asked for the erection of a four-room addition to Piedmont High School, to cost, according to estimates, $29,990.

The building will provide space to bring about integration in taking care of the extra pupils, both in high and elementary schools, from the seventh and through the 12th grades. This will result in the closing of Howard School.

In Keyser, students from the seventh through the 12th grades will be integrated, but the county will continue to use the Lincoln School on Church Street, Keyser, for Negro students from the first through the sixth grade, until other provisions may be made. This is due to lack of classroom space in Keyser at the present time, McGee explained, and will continue until adequate space can be provided.

Flood Control Work Is Getting Under Way

Preliminary work is progressing on the current contract of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

The contractor, the E. J. Albrecht Company, has begun digging the foundation for a 600-foot flood wall near the Western Maryland Railway yards, and is leveling ground for an earth levee in the same area.

In the Smith Island area, the contractor is excavating the channel on the West Virginia side, along what will be the new center line for the Potomac River channel. Trees and brush are also being cleared on the Cumberland side of the river, downstream from the island, to make way for a new channel.

Fence Dispute Causes Suit In Court Here

Bedford Street Property Involved

A dispute over a fence between two properties on Bedford Street resulted in the filing of an equity suit yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Isaac W. McDonald and Bassie G. McDonald, his wife, of Romney, W. Va., through Attorney Thomas B. Finan, filed the suit against Howard Wright and Madeline Stallings Wright, his wife, of 321 Bedford Street.

McDonald stated in his bill of complaint that he holds title to property at 323 Bedford Street. He and his predecessors in title have maintained a fence along the southerly side of the property about 40 years.

Acknowledging that the fence "became somewhat in a state of disrepair," the Romney man asserted that in the Spring of 1954 Mrs. Wright caused the fence to be razed and destroyed. A new fence was installed three feet further north, thereby reducing the McDonalds' area.

About six weeks later McDonald said that he removed the fence but it was reestablished on the same line. McDonald contends that the present location of the fence deprives him of egress and ingress to the side entrance of the house at 323 Bedford Street.

The McDonalds ask that the court pass an order directing Mrs. Wright to replace the fence in its former location and permanently enjoining her from moving the fence from its original location.

AFL Trades Council To Install Officers

Holy Name To Meet

Seven-Year-Old Dancer Wins Talent Show Prize

Barbara Seibert, a seven-year-old girl representing the Columbia Street playground, won first prize last night in the annual Talent Show conducted by the City Recreation Department.

A crowd estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500 gathered at the Constitution Park amphitheatre to witness some 16 different singing, dancing and twirling acts representing all of the playgrounds in town.

All three of the trophy winners represent playgrounds in the North End section of the city.

The prize winner tap danced to "Mamma Inez." Second prize went to Joan and Elwood Stewart, seven and nine years old, respectively, who represented Centre Street playground. They sang "Hambone." The third prize trophy winners were Adrian and Peggy Jo Mackert, representing the North End playground, who sang and danced to "Daddy."

Judges were Clifton E. Fuller, Mrs. Agnes Hensley and Mrs. Anna Smith, all members of the Senior Citizens Club.

Sanity Hearing Due Thursday

A sanity hearing has been scheduled for next Thursday for Floyd Warnick, who was indicted nearly four years ago on two charges of arson and two of unlawful brush burning and has been confined in Spring Grove State Hospital ever since.

Warnick was committed to the hospital shortly after pleading not guilty to the four charges by reason of insanity. The fires occurred in the late summer and early fall of 1951 and he was indicted in October of that year.

This apparently is Warnick's second attempt to win freedom. A docket entry in the case shows that on October 5, 1954, the court ordered dismissal of a petition requesting Warnick's release from Spring Grove State Hospital.

Deputies in the office of Sheriff Edward R. Muir have summoned jurors to be at the Court House at 9:15 a. m. Thursday to hear the case.

Hazelwood Renamed To River Commission

George F. Hazelwood of this city received his oath Thursday for the seventh time as a member of the Interstate Commission of the Potomac River Basin.

Hazelwood was given his oath by G. Walter Fisher, a deputy in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. The test book shows that he began his first term on the commission October 5, 1943 and has received a new oath every two years since then.

The commission was established by an Act of Congress in 1940 and the compact was ratified by the participating states shortly thereafter. The commission is composed of representatives from the United States Government, the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Divorces Granted

Two divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court. Samuel Elias Merrill has obtained a divorce from Marjorie Dow Merrill. He was awarded custody of three of their children and she received custody of the fourth, Noah Richard Hendley was granted a divorce from Betty Jane Hendley and she was given the right to resume use of her former name of Betty Jane Owens.

Good Will Tour Boosts Pageant In Seven Stops

Towns Visited In Two States

A good will delegation yesterday visited seven Maryland and West Virginia communities to invite the mayors and citizens of each place to visit Cumberland during the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration August 14-20.

Miss Phyllis Sneathen, a telephone company employee, served as Miss Fort Cumberland during yesterday's tour, the third and last to be conducted this week.

First stop yesterday was Hancock, where Mayor Lem Kirk received the special invitation from the City of Cumberland. Mayor Winslow Burhans of Hagerstown was next to get an invitation to come to Cumberland during next month's observance.

Mayor John Derr was greeted in Frederick and while there the Cumberland entourage was entertained at lunch. Last stop in Maryland was at Brunswick, where Mayor J. L. Cummings was presented the invitation.

Then the group crossed the Potomac River into West Virginia and extended greetings to the mayors of the three principal towns in the Eastern Panhandle.

First West Virginia stop was at Charles Town, where Nicholas Carson is mayor. The group then was royally received in Martinsburg, where Mayor William Peery presented Miss Fort Cumberland a bouquet of red roses. While in Martinsburg the Cumberlanders were served refreshments and Miss Sneathen appeared on a radio broadcast with Mayor Peery. Final stop was at Berkeley Springs, where L. P. Heimer is the mayor.

Monday the good will tours will resume with visits scheduled to Washington, Alexandria, Va., and Front Royal, Va.

Accompanying Miss Sneathen yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Haschert and William Moorehead.

Cumberland Pays Tribute To Noted British General

A Fort Cumberland Bicentennial committee last night helped Braddock, Pa., honor the memory of Major General Edward Braddock.

The delegation laid a wreath from the City of Cumberland upon the monument that Pennsylvania city erected in tribute to the British general who was killed 200 years ago on his ill-fated campaign to capture Fort Duquesne.

The presentation was made by Mayor Roy W. Eves, Col. F. Egerton Powell, Anthony Saeli and Lynn C. Lashley at ceremonies marking that city's bicentennial of the Battle of Braddock's Field.

Police Probe Boy's Report Of Assault

Youth Struck, Cut With Blade

City Police last night were looking for a man who reportedly forced a 14-year-old boy into his car, struck him, and cut him superficially with a razor blade when the boy refused to disrobe.

Detective Joseph H. Sticher said the boy told him he was forced into the car along Laing Avenue just off Virginia Avenue about 4:40 p. m. yesterday.

The man drove the vehicle to the end of Laing Avenue and then into a field near the Everts Creek tower along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

When the boy refused to obey an order to disrobe, the man struck him in the left cheek and then pulled a razor blade from the glove compartment and cut the youth superficially on both cheeks.

The boy received another threat from the man when two other boys approached the car while on their way to play baseball somewhere in that vicinity. The boy was told that he would be struck with an empty beer bottle if he made any protest to the other youngsters.

As the two boys were leaving, the 14-year-old youth saw an opportunity to escape so he ran in the opposite direction. He hurried to Virginia Avenue and there reported the incident to Police Officer Kenneth W. Morrissey, whom he found in a cruiser.

Detective Sticher arrived a short time later and took over the investigation of the case. The man was described as being between 27 and 29 years of age, about five feet, eight inches tall and weighing about 170 pounds. It was thought he may have been employed on a construction job because there was considerable cement dust on his arms, the boy told police.

The Seashore Is Theme Of Queen's Float

Parades To Feature Bicentennial Week

The Queen of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial will ride in regal splendor on a 35-foot float depicting one of Maryland's most famous attractions, "The Seashore."

Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the Float Parade committee of the Bicentennial, said three six-foot porpoises will ride on the front of the float as trumpeters, heralding Miss Fort Cumberland, who will ride on an oyster shell throne.

Will Build Float
On each side of the Bicentennial Queen will be six-foot porpoises to hold her robe, and behind her will be an eight-foot starfish, surrounded by coral.

The float will be prepared by W. C. Abernathy and Sons, Bethesda, the firm selected to prepare floats for the Bicentennial event.

Abernathy arrived here yesterday to begin making plans for the floats and is available for consultation at Bicentennial Headquarters, opposite City Hall.

Conlon will be chairman of both the Homecoming Day parade and the grand parade planned on American Heritage Day, August 20.

The Homecoming Day parade will be held August 15 at 7 p. m. and will feature floats and musical organizations.

The parade will be held in honor of Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, who will ride in the parade and then review it.

Grand Parade Set
Conlon said all organizations which plan to enter floats must make official applications for position.

The grand parade on Saturday of Bicentennial Week will include not only floats and bands but marching units.

The Executive Committee this week let the contract for sound equipment to the Huey McMurray firm of Rock Hill, N. C. The company will furnish sound for the spectacle and all other major events during Bicentennial Week August 14-20.

Vacation Dental Care Urged For School Children

The Allegany-Garrett Dental Society is sponsoring a program for dental care for all children of school age during the summer vacation period.

Parents are requested to make appointments with their dentists now so all necessary dental work for children of school age may be completed before school starts in the fall.

Officials of the dental society said that if a series of appointments are scheduled by the dentists now, all necessary work can be completed in time for the opening of school, so there will be no interference with school schedules, and no absenteeism from classes after school starts, except in emergency cases.

Parents are urged to cooperate with their dentists in this program, according to Dr. Karl W. Kolb, secretary.

In photo are (left to right) Michael Scharf, Robert Groves, inspector; Kenneth Welsh and Mrs. Vivian L. Turley, records clerk, who is in charge of issuing licenses. Only 876 of the usual 1,700 or more bike riders have obtained licenses, and about 300 of these came yesterday.
